I've been working on a 3 piece commission for several weeks and just finished and delivered the first painting in the series last week. It's been a rather fun diversion from my usual subjects and order of things as my clients have unique frames they found to go with their decorating style and needed art to complement the frames. The style is French baroque and they had found some art that they wished for me to re-create with specific changes to personalize it for them. I hadn't ... See More

Arts Mon Collaborative is working to create real economic impact for working artists in our region.

Connie Mae Moeller, local visual artist/creative, reveals a commissioned work that was facilitated by participating in our network.

Her client reached out to Beth/Arts Mon in search of a regional artist to create a particular style of painting. Because Connie is a participating artist in our collaborative, we were able to make this thoughtful connection.

A win/win/WIN for Connie, her client, and our programming!
